The National Aboriginal Veterans Monument in Confederation Park in Ottawa.

INFORMATION ON ABORIGINAL VETERANS DAY NOVEMBER 8, 2024

It is a privilege for us to commemorate Indigenous Veterans who have served in missions during times of peace, war, and conflict all over Canada and the world. The military service of First Nations in Canada has a long history, despite not receiving adequate recognition. It is important that we acknowledge, honour, and never forget the sacrifices they made. To commemorate the significant contributions made by Aboriginal peoples to Canada, on November 8th to commemorate National Indigenous Veterans' Day. We would like to start a commerce on this day in the future.
